

: APPROACH TO THE SOLUTION: PLEISTOCENE PARK :

Just for us some preparation for our conversation . . .

No. This really has nothing to do with Jurassic Park !

I just spoke extensively with my son, who holds a doctorate in forestry, on the phone ! Yesterday he drew my attention to an ARTE documentary from 2017 about the melting permafrost in the Arctic !

Apparently so that some good news will get into my brain and I escape from this already somehow little depressive moods due to the (assumed) inevitability of the collapsing climate system of this planet !

: CONCLUSION :

If a consistent implementation of the idea of Prof. Sergej A. Zimov takes place we humans have been given some time by nature, or by our dear God or thos gracious merciful goddess. Otherwise, with the current melting of the permafrost in the Arctic, an irreversible collapse of the global climate system can be expected.

: SUBSTANTIATION :

I always like to refer to my special talent with this 'Asperger Syndrome' as "duality and causality in the quantum foam". Thinking is feeling and seeing. People shouldn't look at it so rationally ! At the age of 61, I can slowly turn my thinking into reality. Mr. Zimov's concept opens up a realistic probability on the horizon of realities ! All other variations / realities in this multiverse of (almost) unlimited possibilities are just shit ! Please excuse this verbal excursion into the fecal reasons of our verbal culture. This term 'shit' is just somehow appropriate. And in this possible future for us humans it is no longer just about well-tempered splashing around and the occasional gurgling in this global shit. No ! It is really just completely fucking shit ! And honestly. It's not even a particularly tasty metabolic waste product !
